Historic Churches of Detroit

Building on Faith ... Lynda Charow visits

America is founded on the basis of having the freedom to practice one's religion. The historic churches in Detroit express that freedom as the immigrants who built these structures took inspiration from the architecture in their homeland and incorporated that into their houses of worship. Superb craftsmanship, stained glass, towering masonry is common.

The City of Detroit has many beautiful historic churches that are interwoven into the fabric of the corporate buildings downtown. Each has a story as to how they came to be. Lynda Charow, will present her documentary covering 19 churches beginning with the founding of Detroit by Antoine de le Mothe Cadillac in 1701. Join us at Cranberry Lake Farm on Wednesday, November 7 at 7:00pm.

Join us on Wednesday, December 5 at 7:00pm for our Holiday Program at historic Paint Creek Church Fellowship Hall. Bring your antique holiday ornaments and decorations. Free. Open to the public.

No membership meetings are set for January or February.

View our 2013 program/event schedule for more details online.

See you there!

Veterans Day in November

Oakland Township's three historic cemeteries each have military veterans buried there. We honored those in Paint Creek Cemetery on Orion Road on October 6 this year. But both Kline Cemetery and Bigler Cemetery contain gravesites for those who served in the military back to the 1800's. Our HDC has files on each cemetery.
